AMERICAN LLOYDS OFFICE,
Burling Slip, New York,
Jan. 31, 1871.

The Register for 1871 is now ready. The January Supplements will contain the introduction to the history of the "Register." In order to supply the demand for the Exposition, an extra edition will be printed and furnished gratuitously to all parties in possession of a book called the "Record," or a book called the "American Lloyds Universal."

HARTSHORN & KING.

The American Lloyds Register, being the acknowledged standard of American surveys of shipping, approved by underwriters generally, and adopted by the Peruvian Government as a standard for the selection of ships to carry Guano, also by the California Board of Underwriters and the West India Lloyds at Havana, &c., &c., it is important to owners to have their vessels surveyed and classed in its "Register." Having complete arrangements throughout the State of Maine, I am prepared to order or make surveys personally, of those supply, and to grant certificates under the "Standard Rules" issued by the Board. Also parties can be supplied with copies of the American Lloyds Register, for 1871, by sending their orders to me at the National Insurance Company, Bangor.

ADDRESS

TO THE

Nervous and Debilitated,

Whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable. If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, persevering, successful business-men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart.

How many men, from the effects of excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in Sexual Organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease--Idiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have used remedies for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility and all diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness and that of posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,

The Great Blood Purifier and Beautifier of the Complexion.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA

WILL RADICALLY EXTERMINATE FROM THE SYSTEM SCROFULA, SYPHILIS, FEVER SORES, ULCERS, SORE EYES, SORE LEGS, SORE MOUTH, SORE HEAD, BRONCHITIS, SKIN DISEASES, SALT RHEUM, CANKERS, RUNNINGS FROM THE EAR, WHITE SWELLINGS, TUMORS, CANCEROUS AFFECTIONS, NODES, RICKETS, GLANDULAR SWELLINGS, NIGHT SWEATS, RASH, TETTER, HUMORS OF ALL KINDS, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, DYSPEPSIA, AND ALL DISEASES THAT HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED IN THE SYSTEM FOR YEARS.

Being prepared expressly for the above complaints, its Blood Purifying properties are greater than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. It gives the complexion a clear and healthy color, and restores the patient to a state of health and purity. For purifying the blood, removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Erysipelas, and all Scaly Eruptions of the Skin and Beautifying the Complexion.

EUROPEAN AND NORTH AMERICAN RAILWAY CO.

THE E. & N. A. RAILWAY is completed from Bangor Maine to St. John, New Brunswick, a distance of 202 miles,--with the exception of 53 miles between Winn, Me., and the boundary line of the State at Vanceboro'. On this portion the track is now being laid, both from Winn eastward and from Vanceboro' westward, and the work will be completed and trains running from Bangor to St. John in September next.

This road will then be

THE ONLY RAILWAY

CONNECTING THE UNITED STATES AND THE BRITISH PROVINCES (New Brunswick and Nova Scotia). The population of the maritime Provinces is about ONE MILLION, and all the land travel, freight, mails, &c., between them and the United States, will pass over this Trunk line, which is WITHOUT COMPETITION. Although not yet completed, the business of the road is already far greater than its most sanguine friends predicted, and is continually increasing.

The net earnings from Local Business alone, on the 56 miles completed in Maine, already exceed the interest on two and one quarter millions of dollars, and will be largely increased after Sept next by the business to and from the Provinces.

To complete this road, and to equip it as fully as its present large business and the immediate increase consequent upon its completion, requires,--the Company has issued its Bonds to the amount of Two Millions of Dollars, secured by a

FIRST & ONLY MORTGAGE

ON ITS ENTIRE ROAD AND PROPERTY FROM WINN TO VANCEBORO' (besides a Second Mortgage on the entire road and equipments from Bangor to Winn, 56 miles. This portion cost some $2,300,000, and the only lien thereon is a mortgage to the city of Bangor for $1,000,000)--and, in addition thereto, by a FIRST AND ONLY MORTGAGE on 800,000 Acres of Land!

Said lands being the same granted by the State of Maine to aid the construction of the road. They are situated along the Penobscot and St. John rivers, and are heavily timbered and valuable. Large tracts, especially in the fertile Aroostook Valley, (the finest agricultural district in the State,) are valuable for farming lands as well as for their timber. This immense grant of lands equals about of Railroad with which they are mortgaged. They cover 1250 square miles, (nearly as large as the State of Rhode Island, which is 1306 square miles,) and are of great value.

14,000 Acres to each Mile

Thus, besides the mortgage of the Railway, its equipments, &c., which alone is ample security for the Bonds, there are timber and farm lands to the amount of

also pledged to ensure the payment thereof.

The Bonds are for $1000 each, due March 1, 1889, bear interest at

Six Per Cent, Per Annum,

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN

GOLD COIN,

Free from U. S. Taxation.

Coupons payable March 1 and September 1, in New York. Bonds registered if desired. Coupons made payable (£6 each) in London, England, if preferred.

SINKING FUND--All proceeds of sales of land, as well as of timber and other products therefrom, are, by the Trustees, to be invested in these Bonds if they can be bought at par or less; otherwise in United States, State or Municipal Securities. And on July 1, 1879, and annually thereafter until these Bonds become due or are all paid the E. & N. A. Railway Co. is bound to pay to the Trustees a sum of money equal to one per cent. of the amount of Bonds outstanding. Such amounts, and all interest received on securities, belonging to the SINKING FUND are to be invested as above stated, and these accumulations are solely for the purpose of additionally providing for the redemption of these Bonds. The Sinking Fund constitutes a third great element of security and strength, and adds to the safety of these Bonds.

The Trustees are Hon. HANNIBAL HAMLIN, of Bangor, Me., and J. EDGAR THOMSON, Esq., of Philadelphia, Pa.

The Trustees are authorized to receive the Bonds at Par and Accrued Interest in payment for any of the lands at their appraised value.

These very desirable securities for sale at

90 AND ACCRUED INTEREST IN CURRENCY.

U. S. Bonds and all marketable securities received at highest market price in exchange for these Bonds, and can be sent by Express and these returned by Express, free of expense to the purchaser.

Pamphlets giving further particulars concerning the connections and business, with Maps, showing the location and lands of this road, sent free on application to

ELIAS MERRILL,

Principal Agent for the Company for the Sale of Bonds,

BANGOR, MAINE.

☞ On completion (in 1872) of 60 miles of Railroad now building, between St. John, N. B. and Halifax, N. S. there will be an unbroken line of Railway from Halifax to all the chief cities of the United States, and as two or three days of ocean travel can be avoided, and about 36 hours' time saved, from New York, in going to or coming from Europe by rail to or from Halifax,--a large business in passengers, mails and freight will thereby be added to the traffic over the E. & N. A. Railway.

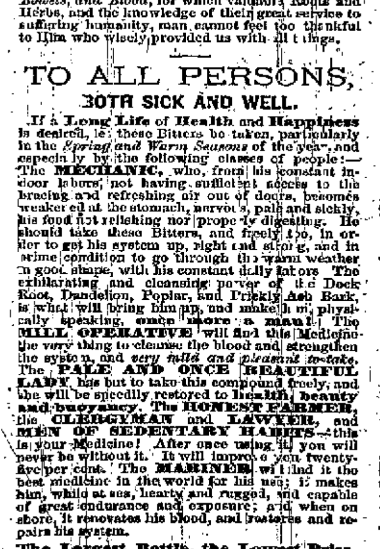
Sherry Wine Bitters.

THE BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

Purely Vegetable, and will not intoxicate.



Diploma awarded by the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, A. D. 1856.

Composed of Dock Root, Sarsaparilla, Rose, Wintergreen, Dandelion, Wild Cherry, Thoroughwort, Prickly Ash, Poplar Bark, Rhubarb, etc. For Weakness, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, Headache, Sour Stomach, Piles of long standing, Humors, and all Diseases which arise from an unhealthy state of the Stomach, Bowels, and Blood, for which valuable Roots and Herbs, and the knowledge of their great service to suffering humanity, man cannot feel too thankful to Him who wisely provided us with all things.

TO ALL PERSONS,

BOTH SICK AND WELL.

If a Long Life of Health and Happiness is desired, let these Bitters be taken, particularly in the Spring and Warm Seasons of the year, and especially by the following classes of people:--The MECHANIC, who, from his constant indoor labors, not having sufficient access to the bracing and refreshing air out of doors, becomes weakened at the stomach, nervous, pale and sickly, his food not relishing nor properly digesting. He should take these Bitters, and freely too, in order to get his system up, right and strong, and in prime condition to go through the warm weather in good shape, with his constant daily labors. The exhilarating and cleansing power of the Dock Root, Dandelion, Poplar, and Prickly Ash Bark, is what will bring him up, and make him physically speaking, once more a man. The MILL OPERATIVE will find this Medicine the very thing to cleanse the blood and strengthen the system, and very mild and pleasant to take. The PALE AND ONCE BEAUTIFUL LADY, has but to take this compound freely, and she will be speedily restored to health, beauty and buoyancy. The HONEST FARMER, the CLERGYMAN and LAWYER, and MEN OF SEDENTARY HABITS--this is your Medicine! After once using it you will never be without it. It will improve you twenty-five per cent. The MARINER will find it the best medicine in the world for his use; it makes him, whilst at sea, hearty and rugged, and capable of great endurance and exposure; and when on shore, it renovates his blood, and restores and repairs his system.

The Largest Bottle, the Lowest Price, and the most Effectual Remedy in the World.

JAMES A. JACKSON & Co.--Gentlemen: As you have communicated to the medical profession the recipe of the "Home Bitters", it cannot, therefore, be considered as a patent medicine, no patent having been taken for it. We have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters," and unhesitatingly say the combination is one of rare excellence, all the articles used in its composition are the best of the class to which they belong, being highly tonic, Stimulant, Stomachic, Carminative, and slightly Laxative. The mode of preparing them is strictly in accordance with the rules of pharmacy. Having used them, seen its effects in our private practice, we take pleasure in recommending them to all persons desirous of taking Bitters, as being the best Tonic and Stimulant now offered to the public.

NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS

RAILROAD COMPANY

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas--passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage

Eight Per cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent. Currency or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. ED. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator; Hon. John A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant-Governor, Troy, N. Y.; Hon. Oakes Ames, M. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton Bliss & Co., L. Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Havens, President Merchants' Bank Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the SAFETY of these Bonds. Their PROFIT is equally manifest upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued Interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

Subscriptions will be received in Bangor by

The next day a messenger drove up to the mill to bring the tidings of the death of Lincoln. The young lady saw him approaching, and recognizing him as one of her neighbors in Damariscotta, exclaimed, "He is dead!" This is a very singular case, but it is well authenticated.

DEMOCRATIC GRIEVANCES.

The main complaints that fill the Democratic newspapers are that Mr. Boutwell is paying the debt too rapidly, and that General Grant prefers his breezy cottage at Long Branch to the fever and ague at the White House. To these may be added another, that the debt was not funded, at five per cent., in a fortnight after the new loan was put on the market. Congress—says the Providence Journal in some very sensible remarks upon these pointless fault-findings—has provided for certain revenue by taxation, and this exceeds, as it always ought to, the public expenditure. If it did not, the government could not place a loan at ten per cent. The last Democratic loan was negotiated in the administration of Buchanan, under the superintendence of that distinguished patriot, financier, and finally confederate general, Howell Cobb, in a time of profound peace, with a plentiful money market. The money was loaned at the modest rate of twelve per cent. The Democrats have not since had the opportunity to test their financial ability in the service of the national government; but they have done an immense amount of grumbling at the way in which the finances have been managed by those to whom the people have seen fit to entrust them. What would the Democrats have Mr. Boutwell do with the revenue that is not needed for the support of the government?" Every million that he pays of the debt reduces the public burdens sixty thousand dollars a year: not for one year alone, but for the whole time that the loan has to run.

Is it any fault of financiering that, at the close of a desolating war in Europe, and with the chief governments of the continent competing for loans in the money market, Mr. Boutwell has not been able, at once, to place five hundred millions at less than half the rate of the last Democratic loan? If we were to look for any cause for this, outside of the general condition of the money market, with so many securities pressing upon it, at higher rates, we should find it in the uneasiness which has been excited in the minds of lenders, by the Democratic howl about repudiation, in part, or in whole. The appreciation of the national currency, marked by the quotations of gold, has made this less apparent, but the effect which the original clamor had upon the capitalists of Europe has not altogether disappeared. We have great confidence that the loan will be taken in a reasonably short time; but whether it be taken immediately or not, the policy that put the loan on the market was a good one, and the amount of interest already saved is no inconsiderable sum.

The offence of the President, in leaving the scorching heats of Washington, during the summer months, as his predecessors have generally done, and in visiting the remote parts of the Union, which Washington esteemed a public duty, although it took him away from the seat of government and from immediate communication with it for months, will hardly go far towards breaking down the administration. The interests of the government, in no respect, suffer thereby. The public business that is required to pass under the immediate eye of the President can be transacted, for a few weeks, at Long Branch as well as at Washington, with which he is in telegraphic communication, and can reach at any time in ten hours. That no public duties are neglected we have the best of evidence in the efficient conduct of our national affairs at home and abroad, and it will require something more than Democratic carping to render the people dissatisfied with the financial policy which has reduced the general indebtedness and the amount upon which we are taxed to pay interest by nearly $9,000,000 more during the month of July.

Since the damaging disclosures of the robberies perpetrated by the Democratic Tammany ring in New York, the journals of that party in other States have eagerly echoed the assertions of the Mayor and the World, that the responsibility rests upon a former Board of Supervisors equally divided between the two parties, and although that Board is admitted to have been corrupt, those who have endorsed its fraudulent accounts and paid out the money are men of another stamp and of the strictest honesty. This specious plea is completely exploded by the Tribune as follows:

1. The old Board of Supervisors ceased to be half Republican on the 1st of January, 1867—before any of these bills were audited—the people having elected Smith Ely, Jr. (anti-Tammany Democrat), over Isaac J. Oliver (Republican) expressly to put an end to the see-saw arrangement. It was ever afterward unquestionably Democratic.

2. Its leader and master spirit was William M. Tweed, for years chief manager of the Democracy of our City and State.

3. The man who drew most of the money in question from the Treasury was James H. Ingersoll, formerly Tweed's partner in chair-making, still his trusty henchman, always an active Democrat, and last Fall appointed a Commissioner of the New Court House by Mayor Hall.

4. Neither Mayor nor Controller ever objected to one of these bills in question, tho' either might have stopped them by refusing to approve them and sending the holder to the Courts for his remedy. An uncontested decision of Judge Mullin establishes the right thus to stop the payment of a fraudulent bill.

Here is what the Boston Post had to say to the proposition for erecting a fitting monument to the great war minister who bore such a heavy share of the labor of suppressing the rebellion, and wielded so grandly and successfully the military resources of the nation in its vital struggles:

> But as he has left such stupendous monuments of wrong behind him, that must be removed before a people's admiration can be invoked on his behalf, it is a public duty to attend scrupulously to them before proceeding to erect a mausoleum to such a memory as his. Not even to liberty can such flagrant wrong be excused as Stanton in his life-time and day of power perpetrated against Fitz John Porter and McClellan. It was not a degeneracy into license—it was outright, naked tyranny; the tyranny of entrenched cowardice. And an appeal is made for a monument to the tyrant, while the wicked wrong to his living victim continues.

And here are its tender words, written a few days after the above, upon John Slidell, a leading conspirator in the Confederacy, and who died in charitable obscurity in a foreign land where he had busily intrigued on behalf of treason to his country:

> Surrounded by circumstances which he conscientiously believed to be beyond his control, and by sympathies, local affinities and other powerful considerations personal to himself, his patriotism yielded to the severe trial and his lesser qualities triumphed. He fell into the current of the storm when it had accumulated into an uncontrollable tempest. * * * He has seen and felt his error, and borne the consequences with a quiet submission and dignity which ought to rescue his memory from undeserved reproach.

The Democratic State Convention in Massachusetts is to be held at Springfield on the 14th of September. Besides nominating a State ticket, the convention will choose delegates to attend the National Democratic Convention next summer.

The Jeff. Davis scandal has not been successfully disposed of by his published denial, as the story is re-affirmed with a particularity of detail, by the conductors of both the sleeping car and the train. The whole affair is again going the rounds of the western papers, and even the Portland Argus prints the discreditable story. The case looks badly for Jefferson's moral reputation.

The unexpected development of Ku-Klux outrages in South Carolina, has startled Southern Democratic leaders, especially in view of the clearness with which the pending investigation is bringing out the fact that the central thought of the Southern Democracy to-day is directed toward overthrowing both reconstruction constitutions and the reconstruction laws. Democrats upon the committee are fully alive to the conviction that the moment Northern men understand that this is the fact which underlies the present disturbances at the South, they will rise again, without regard to party, and put down this new form of treason.

The N. Y. Standard learns from the best authority, that the statements published in the New York Times of the enormous amounts paid by Tammany Hall for furniture, repairs, etc., were furnished by the man who drew out the original warrants for the payment of the different bills. These warrants were signed and countersigned by Mayor Hall and Controller Connolly.

PRINCE EDWARD'S ISLAND AND THE TREATY. Gov. Robinson of P. E. I., in reply to a memorial of the opposition members who prayed for a special session to consider the Washington Treaty, says that a special session is unnecessary, as the arrangement made between the Governments of Great Britain and the United States, to have the treaty go into operation at once, is concurred in by his Government. The following minute has been published, dated July 24th:

> "Resolved, That such relaxations and regulations as are in the power of the Government of Prince Edward's Island to adopt, be agreed to with a view to the admission of American fishermen for the present year to the liberty which it is proposed to assure them by the Treaty of Washington."

THE NEW YORK FRAUDS. The New York Times of Wednesday morning publishes a call signed by a large number of prominent merchants, bankers and others in that city, for a mass meeting at the Academy of Music next Tuesday evening. The call invites all to be present without distinction of party, who desire honest and fair dealings with the public monies and are disposed to have the charges of fraud so publicly and distinctly made, followed by a thorough examination of the public accounts. As an indication of the method by which the ring hope to twist the figures in their defense, the Tribune states that it is claimed that the accounts of the Comptroller's office, soon to be published, will show that the accounts of that office represented by the Times to cover only one year, extend over a period of nearly five years and that the money paid was for work on buildings other than the new Court House and Armories. This plea comes too late, as the Mayor and the World have already admitted the correctness of the figures and the exorbitant character of the payments, seeking only to divert the responsibility and not to impugn the facts.

It is stated that a sub-committee will be sent in October to investigate the facts connected with the alleged Ku-Klux, three hundred of whom were indicted at the recent term of the U. S. Circuit Court at Oxford, Mississippi.

COMMENCEMENT AT COLBY.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

The action of the Board of Trustees in opening the College to-morrow seems to meet with general favor. I have not heard a word against it yet. Dr. Shailer's views on this point were made known to the public a short time ago by an editorial in the Zion's Advocate, in which he took strong ground in favor of giving to women the same advantages as to men. He says that he has seen the necessity of it for some time, and only doubted its practicability. In his long connection with the public schools of Portland, he has often found a lack of good female teachers, and never a lack of women willing to fit themselves if an opportunity was offered. Being perfectly satisfied of the need of educated women, he was convinced by reading the reports of Michigan University that their education in the same institution with boys was perfectly practicable. Says the Doctor, "God placed girls and boys in the same family, and therefore intended them to be educated together." This change at Colby is of greater moment than seems on the face of it. The only difference to be made hereafter is, that women cannot room in the dormitories as the young men can do if they choose, and women can have the choice (which is not open to young men) of taking one or two departments, and they will receive a diploma stating what courses they have concluded.

ADDRESS BY DR. FULTON.

The exercises were continued last evening by the address before the united Literary Societies. The Rev. J. D. Fulton, of Boston, was the orator, and the poem was omitted.—Mr. Fulton's subject was "The Law of Force." He said it was an established fact that scholarship was the strongest force generally, and urged upon his hearers by example, illustration and exhortation, to strive for true scholarship, never once forgetting its importance.—The oration was listened to with great attention by a very large audience, and was frequently interrupted by laughter and applause. After the oration the usual supper and reunion of the various societies took place.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity was celebrated, and the Hon. J. H. Drummond, of Portland, one of the founders of the Chapter, gave some interesting reminiscences.

Pollard, of Foxcroft; Doctor of Divinity on Professor Samuel King Smith, of Colby University, of the class of 1845; Doctor of Laws on the Hon. Josiah Hayden Drummond, of Portland, class of 1846.

COMMENCEMENT DINNER.

The [illegible] the fine music of Chandler's Portland Band, marched to the Memorial Hall, where an excellent dinner had been prepared by Mr. L. Cr[illegible] of Waterville. Indeed, we must acknowledge that Colby has the banner commencement caterer. The cool dining hall was well filled by hungry alumni, who showed a just appreciation of the good things provided for them. The President made but a few remarks, apologizing for the absence of the Governor, and remarking that future commencement at Orono and Colby would not clash, for the Trustees had changed the time so that hereafter, commencement would be on the fourth Tuesday in July. Hon. Josiah H. Drummond was the first person called upon. Dr. Drummond apologized for his inability to speak as he should wish, saying he had been so busy with law that he felt like beginning 'gentlemen of the jury.' He spoke of the great and important work done by Colby University.

Rev. Dr. Childs of Boston, said he had been very much pleased by his first visit to Colby, and rejoiced at the beautiful hall and the beautiful Memorial which the friends of the College had raised.

The Rev. Dr. Ide of Springfield, speaking of the great work which had been done by New England Colleges and which he thought was not sufficiently appreciated. He also took strong ground in favor of the regular college course, as approved to the elective system. The Rev. A. K. P. Small of Portland, made an eloquent address, full of regard and kindly feeling for his Alma Mater. Dr. S. K. Smith, made a humorous speech in reference to the degree which had been that day conferred upon him. Hon. Mr. Bonney of Portland, spoke in warm terms of those whose names were engraved on marble in the memorial tablet. The audience then dispersed.

COMMENCEMENT CONCERT.

Biliousness and Indigestion.

These two complaints are more general at this season of the year than at almost any other. They are closely akin; for biliousness always involves an impaired digestion, and indigestion is necessarily an accompaniment of a disordered or torpid liver. Happy the man or woman who can boast of a stomach that has never felt the horrors of dyspepsia, and to whom that great secretive agent, the liver has never given pain or trouble. Not one in a thousand can lay claim to entire immunity from irregularity in these organs. How then, shall they be regulated? Not by powerful cathartics, alternated with ordinary stimulants, but by a medicinal invigorant, like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which combine in due proportion the tonic and the alterative principle. Wherever there is a church, a school-house, and a general store, this famous medicine may be procured. No village merchant finds it prudent to be without it, for it is enquired for every day by every class. The workingman buys it because it increases his capacity for toil, and is followed by no reaction. The effect of the salubrious roots, herbs etc. of which it is composed, diffused through his system by the pure stimulant which forms the basis of the Bitters, is most healthful and invigorating. The scholar, the merchant, and, in fact, all men whose minds, or bodies, or both are in constant exercise, will derive benefit from its use. To persons of sedentary habits it supplies, in some measure, that activity in the circulation which is obtained by physical exertion, and is the best known remedy for constipation.

Ask for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and do not be coaxed into purchasing any of the imitations and frauds sometimes offered in its stead.

The owner, having removed from the city, wishes to sell this house, situated on West Broadway. It is a large new, two-story house with a French roof, and is furnished throughout in the best manner and with all the modern improvements. It is situated on one of the pleasantest streets in the city, and all of the surroundings are as good as could be found anywhere. The lot contains about seven eighths of an acre (102 feet on the street, and about 350 feet back) and is all under a high state of cultivation. The soil is very nice and light. There are nearly all kinds of fruit trees and shrubbery on the lot, and a nice flower garden beside the house. It is seldom that such a chance is offered to persons wishing to buy a nice house.

THE NEW RANGE excels anything of the kind ever offered for sale. It requires much less space than ordinary cooking stoves, and is more economical. It will heat as much water as a range set in masonry.

The door can be removed during cold weather to allow the heat to escape into the kitchen.

CONSUMPTION.

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now, comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country, in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.

As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of the morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

BOSTON ITEMS

Boston, Mass., Aug. 2.

TRIAL OF A BOYLSTON BANK ROBBER.

At the trial of Wm. A. Glover for connection with the Boylston Bank robbery now in progress before the Superior Criminal Court Thomas H. Pratt testified in substance that he was with the firm of Wm. J. Gray & Son, Bankers in New York, [illegible] that he visited Boston with Glover shortly before the robbery and in passing Boylston Bank Glover said to him, "That bank will catch hell pretty soon; I'm the boy who knows what's going on. There will be lively times around there one of these mornings." Witness and Glover soon after returned to New York together, leaving a person known as "Dick Broker" in Boston. Pratt continued his testimony as follows: On the following Thursday I received $10,000 in bonds marked Boylston Bank. I saw Gray the next day and he agreed to take the bonds as soon as he could get the money. Between $60,000 and $80,000 of these bonds were afterward delivered to me for Gray by either Glover or Dick Broker before Dec. 11th. They were brought at different times. I don't know how Glover got the bonds from Broker, but I know they made appointments to meet in various parts of the city at different times. I have seen Broker hand Glover packages sometimes and those same packages have been brought to me and I have found always that they contained stolen bonds.

In cross examination, Pratt gave the following bit of personal history. In 1864 I went to Washington to accept a position in the Auditor's office of the Treasury Department, and after being there about three years, left for New York to go into speculation branches in Wall Street, as I thought I could do a great deal better there, at that time I had about $7,000 or $8,000 capital. My speculations were confined to gold and government bonds. A short time before I left my situation in Washington I went to Chicago, and speculated in grain there, and only left there because my leave of absence had expired. Gray engaged me as his confidential clerk, I attended to his private business, such as the buying of stolen bonds, this was in 1869. I was never in business with Gray. He gave me $2,000 a year and what profit he made on $25,000 that was put into certain speculations. The first business I performed for Mr Gray, was to go between him and stolen bond dealers, some whom I knew thought a man named Bratten. I fully understood when I engaged myself what my duties were to be. I had no commission from Gray on stolen bonds, the only commission I ever received on this kind of property was from Glover.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Aug. 2.

William Vanderbilt, government inspector, to-day made an official inspection of the boiler of the Westfield. He found the material of the boiler good and the iron of the requisite thickness, but discovered a serious break in the inner casing which evidently existed long before the explosion. The outer edge of the fragment was much brighter than the inner, and from this and other indications he has come to the conclusion that the inner casing was broken either when the boiler was made nine years ago or gave way subsequently when subjected to a severe test. He expressed a positive opinion that the boiler has for a long time been held together simply by a thin outside plating, and said he was surprised it had not exploded before. The flaw could not have been detected by any inspector as the outside of the boiler was covered with felt and the inside afforded no indications of decay, nor could it have been detected by sounding the boiler.

THE NATHAN MURDERER.

The Times for to-morrow publishes an account of the pursuit of Forrester, the Nathan murderer, by detective Pinkerton. When Police Superintendent Kelso's proclamation was issued offering a reward of $2500 for the arrest of the murderer, the latter was in Chicago. He subsequently fled to Galveston, Texas, and thence to Scotland, where his parents reside. Pinkerton followed him to Scotland; His efforts to secure the fugitive's arrest were unsuccessful, but he ascertained beyond a doubt that Forrester was within the limits of Great Britain and his escape next to impossible. The British police are on the alert and Pinkerton considers the murderer's capture almost certain, although some time may elapse before it is effected.

UNIFORMITY OF TEXT BOOKS. At the American Institute of Instruction at Fitchburg, Mass., on Friday, Hon. Warren Johnson, State Superintendent of Schools of Maine read a paper on State Uniformity of Textbooks, a subject he treated with great clearness under the following heads: 1. Definition and limitation of the subject. 2. The right of the State to determine and secure the kind and quality of text-books. 3. The duty of the State to establish uniformity. 4. Some of the positive advantages resulting from State uniformity. 5. Consideration of some of the objections. 6. Two methods of obtaining uniformity. The advantage of the uniformity of text-books was strongly advocated, and the methods for obtaining these advantages were settled as follows:—Either the State should make some satisfactory arrangements with the publishers of the books to furnish them at a reasonable rate or have the State furnish the books itself, as it now furnishes its own statute books and public documents. Abner J. Phipps, of Medford, was chosen president of the Association, and A. P. Stone, of Portland, one of the vice-presidents. A. P. Marble, of Worcester, another Maine man, was chosen first on the board of counsellors.

A STRANGE STORY. A very curious phenomenon was witnessed on Lake Winnipiseogee on Sunday afternoon about half past two o'clock, by two men who were in a small boat, anchored near Rattlesnake Island. There was scarcely a breath of air stirring and the surface of the lake was unaffected by even a ripple, when the centre of the lake appeared to sink down, and immediately following were three large waves, the largest of which was over five feet high, and dashed over the rocks of the Island, for a moment threatening destruction to the boat.

While a Dummy engine drawing several cars containing over two hundred persons, was on its way from East New York to Canarsie on Sunday, the pipe or a portion of the boiler gave way and the steam and hot water flooded the cars, blinding and scalding many of the passengers.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

THE COIT EXCURSIONISTS IN BANGOR. The Coit Excursionists left Eastport for this city at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening on the steamer New Brunswick, but were delayed by fog and thick weather and did not arrive here until 3:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon.—The party consists of 280 persons, of whom 97 are from Worcester, 37 from Marlborough, 18 from Boston, 16 from Westborough, 12 from West Brookfield, 8 from Brimfield, 8 from Westminster, 8 from Oakdale, 8 from Quincy, 7 from Springfield, 6 from Northborough, 6 from Webster, 7 from Hubbardston, 5 from Tuft's College, 4 from Warren, 7 from Orange, 3 from Southborough, 3 from Southbridge, 3 from Hartford (Conn.), 2 from New York, 2 from Whitinsville, 2 from Oxford, 2 from Shrewsbury, 2 from South Dedham, 2 from Norwich, 2 from Milbury, 2 from Leicester, 2 from Brookfield, and one each from Westfield, Clinton, Fitchburg, Northampton, Gardner, Rochdale, Sutton, Belchertown, Salem, Woburn, Natick and West Boylston. They left Boston on Tuesday of last week, and have visited Portland, Eastport, Annapolis, Halifax and St. John. They have with them the Worcester Brass Band, 17 pieces, J. C. Richardson, leader, and are organized as follows:

President—William Mecorney, Worcester.
Vice President—O. P. Maynard, West Brookfield.
Treasurer—A. B. R. Sprague, Worcester.
Secretary—A. H. Davis, Worcester.
Surgeons—Dr. E. Schofield, Worcester. Dr. Geo. T. Forbes, West Brookfield.
Stewards—Henry Glazier, Worcester; Thos. W. Davis, Boston.

Mayor Dale, expecting the excursionists here at 9 a. m. (the time at which they would have arrived had it not been for the fog,) engaged a special train on the E. & N. A. Railway to take them to Basin Mills, and this train was kept waiting near the wharf until nearly 3 p. m., when the locomotive being needed on the road, the train was taken away. We are sorry that the "Coits" could not have had the opportunity of inspecting the lumber mills, offered by the liberality of the Mayor, for to most of them the manufacture of lumber on such an extended scale would be a great novelty. No one is to blame, however, for the delay, and the "fog mills" on the coast are alone responsible.

The party was received at the wharf of the Sanford line, by the Mayor and a number of our prominent citizens, who took many of the excursionists into their carriages and gave them a ride about the city. Most of the remainder left the steamer and strolled up the streets, inspecting the town on their own responsibility, many finding friends and relatives among our people who gladly welcomed the sojourners from a sister State.

In the evening, by invitation of the excursionists, a number of ladies and gentlemen of this city went on board the New Brunswick, as she lay at the wharf, and the party gathered on the hurricane deck. The Worcester Band played some fine pieces, after which Mr. Mecorney, President of the Association, called the assemblage to order and introduced Mayor, who welcomed the party to Bangor in a brief but pithy speech. Mr. Mecorney responded, thanking the Mayor and citizens for the kind reception they had tendered, and regretting that the fog had detained the excursionists so long as to prevent the proposed trip to the Basin Mills. He closed by saying some very complimentary things of our city and its inhabitants.

He was followed by John L. Crosby and J. Swett Rowe, esqs., of this city, Rev. Mr. Hammond, Chaplain of the Association, and Mr. Glazier, the steward, all of whom made brief speeches which were very favorably received. At the conclusion of the speech making, those of the party who chose—and there was a goodly number—adjourned to the wharf, where to the excellent music of Richardson's Quadrille Band, of Worcester, they danced until the hour of starting approached. At midnight the lines were cast loose and the steamer started down river. To-day the party will go up the Kennebec to Gardiner; return to Portland to-morrow, and on Saturday return to Boston, whence the excursionists will reach their homes.

—City Council meets this evening.

—The brick sidewalk on Hammond-st. in front of Dole Bros' store, is being relaid.

—Fifth-st., between Hammond and Cedar-sts., is impassable on account of a sewer excavation.

—The Peak Family, Bell Ringers and Vocalists, will give an entertainment in this city on the 10th.

—A dangerous counterfeit 50-cent scrip of the issue bearing the portrait of Lincoln, is in circulation.

—We understand that quite a party of ladies and gentlemen of this city leave for the White Mountains, next Monday.

—The "probabilities" are that if the present weather continues there will be a "heated term."

—Only 12 miles of iron remain to be laid to complete the line of the European & North American Railway.

—Mr. George Waft, well known to our citizens and the travelling public, as clerk of one of the Sanford steamers for a number of years, died yesterday morning in Hallowell.

—For the benefit of the youth who inquired if "Mr. Coit" came on the New Brunswick, we state that the "Coit excursionists" take their name from that of the steamer in which they made their first trip.

—A gentleman well qualified to know, informed us yesterday that good cows can be bought in this vicinity for $10, and the prospect is that the price may go even lower than this. Beef ought to be cheap this fall.

—Mr. O. H. Ingalls of this city bought yesterday, 2000 pounds of raspberries, in different lots, for which he paid the sum of $200. Berry pickers on the line of the railroads are taking advantage of the rapid transportation offered, and are sending in immense quantities of wild fruit.

—A young man hailing from this city burglarized a store in Farmington last Friday night and stole a quantity of money, a watch and other articles. He was committed for trial. The Portland Advertiser, from which we glean these facts, does not give the burglar's name.

—A large party of ladies and gentlemen started down river on Capt. Ross' barge about half-past nine o'clock last evening, for a moonlight excursion. They took a quadrille band with them to provide music for dancing, and it is presumed they enjoyed the trip, as up to the time of this writing (1 o'clock a. m.) the had not returned.

CORRECTION. An error occurred in transmitting a sentence in our special dispatch from Waterville yesterday morning relating to the meeting of Colby University. The sentence referred to should have read as follows:

Prof. Hall, Treasurer of the Association, reported a balance due him of $123 63, the Memorial being paid for with borrowed money.

—We saw yesterday some oats, grown this season on a muck meadow in Kenduskeag, owned by George Stetson, Esq., of this city, which were over five feet in length from root to tip. Some of the leaves were half an inch broad, and the heads were well filled out, though the oats had not stopped growing.—These oats, we are informed, are a fair sample of the whole field, and their fine growth in this dry season demonstrates the value of muck lands, properly drained, for grain crops.

HORSE TROT. The trot at the Bangor Park this afternoon between "Lightfoot," "Daniel Boone" and "Bully Brooks," promises to be very closely contested. We are informed that each of the horses has made 2:38 in private trials, and that looks as if this race would be "red hot." A match has been made between A. G. Hunt's "St. Lawrence" and K. Larkin's "Gen. Knox, Jr.," which will probably be trotted off this afternoon.

EXCURSION TO CAMDEN. Our city readers will be pleased to learn that the favorite steamer City of Richmond, Capt. Dennison, has been chartered for an excursion to Camden next Saturday, leaving at 1 p. m., arriving at Camden about 4, and remaining long enough to allow the excursionists to look the town over and visit the various points of interest in the vicinity. The steamer will return in the evening, and arrive here at or before 12 o'clock. This excursion cannot fail to be one of the most pleasant ever made from this city, and large numbers of our citizens have expressed a determination to "take a hand in it."

THAT WATER TANK. Mr. Editor:—If it is allowable to make inquiries through the medium of your columns, I would like to inquire who has charge of the water tank on Custom House approach, and whether there is any collusion between that faithful personage and the saloon keepers to have him allow it to run dry every alternate night just after sunset? Your suggestions, the other day, in regard to keeping the tank full on Sunday, were good; but the first object to be thought of, is to provide fresh water during week days, and when that can be fairly accomplished, we may venture to think it possible to have fresh water Sunday, also. Lord Kimberly has officially stated that the English government declines to annex or protect Fiji.

Three of the crew of the ship Storm Bird, have been killed at New Hebrides by the natives.

More removals are expected at the Kittery Navy Yard. It is thought that less master mechanics and more Naval officers are to be employed.

George Sanders and Henry Kreppa of Jersey City, were drowned in the Hackensack River on Sunday afternoon, by the capsizing of a boat.

The steamer America sailed from San Francisco for Japan on Tuesday with 300 Chinese and 47 cabin passengers, including Gen. Horace Capron and party.

Bread stuffs to the value of three quarters of a million sterling, have been exported from South Australia this year, and there is an equal quantity still unshipped.

James Gilmartin of Jersey City, was convicted on Tuesday of attempting to create insubordination among the Midland Railroad employes, and sentenced to one year in the State prison.

The Tyne Crew have gone to their quarters at the Clairmont House and have settled down to regular practice on the Kennebecasis River. There is not much betting, but the odds are heavy on the Englishmen.

A rigid inquiry shows that the recent explosion of the government powder works at Vincennes was purely accidental. The recent reports of the burning of the Archiepiscopal palace at Tours, are contradicted.

David W. Kelleher, an associate editor of the Irish World in New York, has been missing since Sunday morning, and his friends fear that he was killed by the Westfield explosion.

Joe Coburn the prize fighter was wounded in the scalp in a row at a Bowery liquor saloon on Wednesday, the ball also wounding a man who was passing at the time. The roughs were arrested.

John Laugenbahn, a New York grocer, was invited into an office at 16 Wall Street, Tuesday noon, where he was chloroformed and robbed of $3,800 by a young man who resembled his clerk. He remained unconscious until about 5 o'clock in the evening, when he was found in the woods on Staten Island.

THE WESTFIELD EXPLOSION. The list of dead by the explosion of the ferry-boat Westfield by the latest returns at the Coroner's office Wednesday morning, had reached a total of 77, but the Herald publishes the names of 93 known to be killed, and 122 seriously injured. Dr. Vanderweyde who has made the freaks of steam boiler explosions a special study of ten years, on Tuesday examined the boiler of the Westfield, and states that the causes of the accident were five fold first, the defective design of this style of boiler second bad workmanship; third injudicious and careless method of testing; fourth, neglegence of the engineer; fifth, the indifference of the proprietors.

An official inquiry under the direction of Addison Lowe, Supervisor of the New York Inspection District, into the condition of the boiler of the Westfield; at the last inspection was commenced on Wednesday. Captain Belknap, Inspector-General, was present. Mr. Brown attended as counsel for the owners of the boat. At the opening of the enquiry Mr. Lowe addressed the board. He said they were there to make the most searching inquiry to the late deplorable disaster, in order to have it properly done, and that there might be no room for an imputation of improper influence he had summoned Mr. Hill from Boston to assist Mr. Boole. Any one who looked into the matter must see that it was one of those things which might have been a very great responsibility, rested on somebody, and it was the duty of the Inspectors to fix it. He would give them every facility and assistance and procure any witnesses they required. Mr. Matthews said he gave the certificate freely and would have travelled on the Westfield last Sunday. He did not try to lift the valve because it was no use without steam pressure, but everything appeared free and clear. He tested the boiler at 84 pounds, hydrostatic pressure, and the guage would indicate 32 pounds. The diameter of the boiler was 10 feet. He had no means of knowing its thickness, but should think it was a quarter of an inch thick, he never knew of the safety valve not working unless arrested by the engineers. Had no conversation with the engineer as to his qualification, and he was not required to be under license in the waters of the State, by the construction of the laws. Even if the safety-valve opened, the steam might have got to a dangerous point if they were generating it rapidly. The shell showed no signs of weakness, there were two patches on the bottom over the seams. Witness served his apprenticeship as engineer nine years in the naval service, and was engineer on the Pacific coast.

Jacob H. Vanderbilt, President of the Staten Island R. R. Co, stated that the Co. had three boats, he considered the Westfield the best. She was built in 1862, her engine was built by Allan & Co., and was thought the oldest, and the best, because it was made before the war when better iron could be got, and he preferred the colored engineer Robinson to all the rest. The Westfield was to have been put into the dock that day, not for anything about the boiler, but for cleaning flues and so on. The pilot was just over the boiler and the Captain at the other end of the boat where the explosion occurred. He had no idea of the cause. The Westfield was not an extra boat. The inquiry was adjourned. August Gravelle of New York, and Isaiah Abbott of Brooklyn, died at Bellevue, Wednesday morning from injuries by the explosion. Eliza Kerchner who died Tuesday night, was doing well until a number of thoughtless friends who had gained access to her bedside, informed her of the death of her husband, upon which she gave a loud scream, raised herself in bed and fell back dead.

Paris is to be spared the last threatened affliction. Andy Johnson denies the report of his intended visit.

The St. Louis Times says: "There seems to be next to nothing doing in Missouri politics outside of St. Louis county. An era of serene tranquility prevails in all political circles."

Emily Pitts Stevens, an intimate friend of Mrs. Fair, applied for registration as a voter in San Francisco on Wednesday, and being refused, threatened to sue the county clerk for damages.

Thomas J. A. Gross, chief of police, Providence, R. I., died Wednesday morning of paralytic affection, after an illness of about a week.

Rev. Henry A. Coit, who was elected President of Hobart College at Geneva, N. Y., has declined accepting the office as he wishes to continue his labors at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, (Dem.,) noticing the slight effect produced among Republicans by the first speech of its Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, says that "it was so moderate as to make them regard the speech as no stronger than weak herb tea."

Mayor Hall, of New York, designates the recent revelations with regard to the shortcomings of himself and other members of the city government as "pitiful events." He says further that the Democratic party is too strong to be affected by them. "We have," he said, "the State now, and we are determined to keep it. By the time the election for Governor takes place, the charges of corruption against us, even if there was anything in them, will all be forgotten." This is certainly taking a hopeful view of things; but he will find the people are not usually troubled by such short memories.

MORE HORSE-CAR MURDERS. Thomas Owens, driver of a Second Avenue car, died at Bellevue Hospital, Tuesday, from injuries received Sunday by being shoved off the car by roughs. Owens hung to the lines and was dragged for some distance along the track, until he was compelled to withdraw his hold and the wheels of the car passed over his legs breaking one and severely injuring the other. At the same time Mr. De atour, connected with Russell Sturgess & Co., ship-owners, was also pushed from the car and fell upon the track, the car passing over him, severely injuring one leg. He would not have his leg taken off although there seemed no other hope for saving his life. He was removed to his own residence, Tuesday in a very critical condition.

SURVEY OF A NEW ROUTE TO THE PACIFIC. A number of engineers and an excursion party under the charge of Chief Engineer Blenhendorff of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad, will soon start from St. Louis, to survey the engineering features of a route across the plains, which the road will take from its present terminus to the Pacific coast. Gen. Pope will furnish a military escort for protection against hostile Indians. Another party under the command of Capt. J. R. Straugh, will soon survey a route to the Canadian River, about 150 miles from the present terminus of the road.

SHOCKING FATALITIES. Dr. George Howe and wife, Mrs. Chas. T. Tilton and Miss Wolcott, all of Boston, while taking a pleasure drive on Tuesday in Charlestown, N. TO MY HEART

In thy long, lonely times poor aching heart,
When days are slow and silent nights around,

[illegible] briskly into the kitchen she [illegible] her surprise it must be confessed [illegible] good fire and the tea kettle already [illegible] the stove. "Why Isaac!" she [illegible] ruddy [illegible] at the open door [illegible] a stout lad of sixteen entered bearing [illegible] with white

[illegible] last [illegible] for [illegible]

[illegible] fair and bright as those [illegible] and beauty rolled in [illegible]

[illegible] there was a world [illegible] boyish times that [illegible] mother's [illegible] morning [illegible] years before [illegible] journey of life and to [illegible] at all with [illegible]

"[illegible] want me to stay here [illegible] my [illegible] farm, [illegible] work [illegible] trying?" "[illegible] course—you know I don't, [illegible]"—"[illegible] I know that [illegible]" the [illegible] I shall miss you [illegible] always [illegible] either in [illegible] great city, [illegible] strangers"

[illegible] brushing away a tear with the back of [illegible] hard brown hand he added hopefully—"[illegible] well [illegible] we know [illegible] and when I come home to you a rich man [illegible] old furnish like this then [illegible] off the mortgage, and build you a new [illegible] bigger and handsomer than Squire Sawyer's [illegible] shall have a girl to do the work, [illegible] young and pretty again and—" [illegible] there [illegible] Mrs [illegible] half [illegible] did she [illegible] prophesy

"You can't [illegible] Isaac," and her voice [illegible] in spite of her effort to speak [illegible] that's thought he'd only got [illegible] the city to make a fortune right off. It's [illegible] work this getting rich in the city, as well as [illegible] country and" she hesitated for a moment [illegible] her down[illegible] and then added in a lower tone, [illegible] to keep back the [illegible] that filled her eyes "[illegible] them that do make money are very apt to forget [illegible] grow [illegible] relations [illegible] if they do [illegible] always give 'em what is dearest of all—the old love and respect [illegible] boy should [illegible]"

While speaking thus [illegible] she had [illegible] and was hurrying with [illegible] the milk room before the boy found [illegible] which to express his surprise and [illegible]

"Mother"

[illegible] had followed and was standing close at her elbow, as she nervously arranged her pans [illegible] and [illegible] the soft [illegible] of the milk [illegible] moment, he said with a quiet manliness [illegible] the boisterous lighthearted boy

"Don't never [illegible] such a thing as that of me again, mother [illegible] the [illegible] than all the drawbacks [illegible] I ain't no mean [illegible] of the mothers that [illegible] will. And if [illegible]" he spoke with boyish [illegible] glistening eyes and [illegible] head bent an unconscious dignity [illegible] his words "[illegible] I am ashamed to [illegible] you [illegible] the world has [illegible] loved and [illegible] no matter whether [illegible] may [illegible] house [illegible] of me"

He spoke the [illegible] with a reverent [illegible] of his [illegible] of loving [illegible] in his uplifted eyes that kept his [illegible] heart [illegible] through many a long year of trial and loneliness [illegible] while ever [illegible] brought a warmer [illegible] than had rested there [illegible] as he said tenderly

"Don't think I doubt you, my son. I only [illegible] because such cases are so common, [illegible] you know yours [illegible]"

She paused for a moment, looking sadly through the withered morning glory vine that [illegible] in its decay to the rough slates [illegible] the open window to the little grave[illegible] hill beyond, where gleaming white out from among the rank witch grass and wild golden rod three small head stones [illegible] her sad story [illegible] the mother's [illegible] bereavement and holiness such as only a mother's heart can know and which lent an added pathos to her tones as she said to herself rather it seemed than to her boy

"God has taken three of 'em to Himself an' [illegible] believe he'll let the world take this last and only one away from me!"

Simple homely words with neither beauty [illegible] originality of style or sentiment to distinguish them and yet they sank down deep in [illegible] the listener's soul and like a grain of some [illegible] Eastern perfume made fragrant the memory of that mother's loving faith in all his future years

It was a long walk to the city and as the afternoon of the second day drew near its [illegible] Isaac was obliged to [illegible] up as he expressed it, in confidence to himself that he was [illegible] about tuckered out and still there were half a score or more of miles to be passed [illegible] before he could reach his destination

Every bone in his body ached while with his blistered feet, every step was painful and he was actually deliberating the possibility of finding a shelter for the night in some hospitable farm house when the lumbering of wheels behind him attracted his attention and the next moment a rough but not unkindly voice called out

"Halloo, youngster! How fur ye travel[illegible]"

Isaac looked up curiously into the speaker's grimy face, every feature of which expressed the same hearty kindliness as his tones, while he answered without hesitation

"[illegible] the city or at least," suddenly conscious of his smarting feet, "as near there as I can get to-night."

"All right then. Jest jump up here side o' me an I'll take ye there in a third o' the time an without half the trouble 'twould be to walk"

And as the boy obeyed with a smile and words of thankfulness, he remarked with a shrewd look, from under his smutty brows

"'Taint every young feller goin' to the city that'd care to make his fust appearance there in a charcoal cart."

Isaac laughed merrily "I don't know a soul in the city, he said, so there's nobody to care whether I come in a charcoal cart or a coach. And even if there was, he added, independently, and settling himself a little more easily in his seat as he spoke, "I shouldn't be any more ashamed of one than I should of the other. I shan't slight a chance to ride in one just because I haven't the money to pay for a ride in the other"

"That's the talk!"

And the charcoal man whipped up his horses which, in their turn raised such a cloud of black dust from the loaded wagon, that Isaac silently [illegible] at the perfect equanimity of the [illegible] looked [illegible] tips of his horses' ears, evidently producing some undigested thought in the grimy chambers of his dust-befogged brain

"Yer a purty likely lookin' boy,—what set you out to go ter the city, I should like ter know?"

He seemed by the direction of his eyes, to be addressing the off horse, but as he paused for a reply, Isaac felt that he might with safety appropriate the remark to himself

"Because I couldn't get any kind of a decent livin' at home. I ain't afraid or ashamed to work," he went on with some spirit, as he fancied he saw a look of incredulity upon his companion's face, "but I like to feel that I have my pay for it and an old run out farm that's mortgaged for three fourths of what it's worth don't offer very fair prospects to a young man to start on"

The other nodded a low assent "What kind of a place are you hopin' ter get?"

"In a store or manufactory,—anywhere where I can have plenty of work that I shall be fairly paid for, with a chance to get up higher as I deserve it"

"That's fair but it ain't no easy thing ter find a place, let me tell you, with nobody ter speak a good word for you. But I'll tell you what I've been thinking. You see I've got a cousin that's a porter into Bright and Fanchon's dry goods dealers an' last week he asked me if I knew of a boy that'd do to take the place of their youngest clerk, a sickly sort o' feller that couldn't stand it—running up an' down stairs so much is purty tough work for these city bred boys an' that's why they want to get one from the country. Now spose you try for the chance if it ain't filled already"

How quickly the consciousness of his aching limbs and blistered feet disappeared, as with true boyish hopefulness Isaac questioned his friend, as in his heart he already styled him, in regard to this wonderful opening that seemed to have been prepared so expressly for him and when an hour later, after an interview with one of the partners he was really engaged for the vacant place he would have been glad to have hugged the old fellow to his breast charcoal and all, in the warmth of his gratitude.

"How lucky it was for me that you came across me just as you did!" he exclaimed joyously, in relating his success, for the kind hearted coal man had lingered just outside the establishment anxious to learn the result of his protege's application

"I might have been weeks finding a place if you hadn't offered me a ride."

"Or if you'd been too proud to ride with a coal man," suggested the other

The boy smiled at the implied compliment and after repeating his thanks he added with a thrill of real regret as he gave his hand for a parting salutation

"Well good bye and good luck to you. I s'pose I ought to be huntin' up my quarters"

"I don't s'pose you even know where you're goin' to hang up your hat for the night?"

"Yes, I'm sure of a lodging for the present, with a cousin of my mother's that lives in Fourteenth street. She wrote that she'd board me for awhile till I could do better—They're poor folks, and that's why I wouldn't spend any of the money that I had to start with on coach fare for fear 'twouldn't hold out to pay my board till I found work. You see" he added laughing a little as he caught the curious look in his listener's eye, "I aint at all ashamed to walk to the city, with my extra shirt an' stockin's in a bundle but I should be awful ashamed to feel that I was livin' on my poor relations"

"That's where yer right. Air' now good bye and I hope to live to see the day when the name o' this firm'll be Bright, Fanchon, and Peabody, which it'll be, in time, or I'll miss my guess."

And with that, as John Bunyan says, "he went his way and was seen no more"

Mrs Marsh, the cousin, was as Isaac had intimated, a poor woman, and it was certainly a great change from his own humble but always neat and quiet home to this small, uncomfortable untidy, and often disorderly tenement which the Marsh family dignified with that title. It is true that he was kindly welcomed while his accommodations were the best their limited space afforded, and the board entirely within his humble means which last consideration decided him to stay with them for the present at least.

To be sure, Mrs Marsh declared herself "ashamed of the idea of taking a cent [of] board from her own cousin's son," but she never refused it when offered, and many a barrel of flour and other necessaries found their way into the sparsely furnished store room, for which the husband's wages alone would never have paid

For some time it was a subject of surprise to the young clerk that a steady industrious mechanic like his cousin's husband, should be so constantly straitened in his means, receiving as he did, fair and regular wages the year round. But the mystery was solved, at last. "There,"—and Marsh tossed a very diminutive roll of bills into his wife's lap, one evening after supper

"There's what there is of the month's wages. You'll have to make it hold out for the next four weeks somehow"

He spoke in a moody, discontented tone, and as his wife finished counting the money, her own face clouded and she asked sharply

"What in the world have you done with the rest of it?"

"Why, two dollars went towards that supper that the men gave to Joe Garnet when he visited the city last week, and two more to help buy that present for our foreman, Christmas, and—let me see—oh there was nine shillings I gave Georgie for a sled,—he was so ashamed of his old one because the paint was off, and the boys laughed at it, and then there was three dollars more for our fire company's banner; There's the whole missing eight and a half I believe" he added, with an affectation of jocularity that, poor fellow, he was evidently far from feeling.

"What do you care for Joe Garnet, or the new foreman, or the fire company's banner?" questioned his wife tartly, and Marsh, who whatever his faults might be, was the soul of good nature, replied in his most conciliatory, tones

"Nothing, of course. You know I don't like either of the men, nor 'm above, but so long as most of the other men subscribed, something I was ashamed not to. 'Twould look as if I was dreadful mean or dreadful poor,—one o' the two"

Mrs Marsh sighed heavily, but she made no reply, and her uncomplaining boarder lived on liver and fish hash for the next four weeks to pay for the host's foolish cowardliness

This was only one instance out of many, and the keen witted youth was not slow in drawing his own conclusions therefrom, nor was he sorry when, at the close of his first year with them, the merchants raised his salary sufficiently to enable him to seek other and more comfortable quarters in a neat, well conducted boarding house where several of his fellow clerks were already domiciled

One by one, the years sped by, each bringing the young man a step nearer the post on that his friend the coal man, had predicted for him years before, and at twenty one he filled the place of head clerk in the firm whose members had good sense and discrimination to see and appreciate his steady, faithful services at their true value

It was a bright afternoon in spring one of those days when everybody considers it, a positive hardship to be forced to stay in doors, and the store was, as a natural consequence, crowded with gaily dressed ladies who fluttered here and there like a flock of bright plumaged birds, criticising this and admiring that new fabric, while the gentlemanly clerks, (Bright and Fanchon always had a handsome set of clerks,) smiled and chatted with their fair customers, and the gray haired bookkeeper looked thoughtfully over his spectacles at the chaos of rustling silks and laces, while he silently debated the probable cost of his own pretty daughter's outfit

"The trouble is," dipping his pen energetically into the inkstand, where it stood for a moment like an exclamation point to the unspoken thought, "there's so much extravagant dressing, that a girl in moderate circumstances is ashamed to dress according to her means, for fear of looking shabby by contrast. It's a bad state of things for those who have to foot the bills." And he resumed his reckoning with a sigh.

"This silk is one of the most elegant patterns that we have had this season, and such a delicate shade! It will make up beautifully," and gathering the shining folds in his hand the young man fluttered them temptingly before the admiring eyes of his customer

"Isaac!"

The voice was low and awe stricken, and the speaker, a pale, shabbily dressed woman drew closer to the counter and looked up into the clerk's manly face with a mingled expression of joy and doubt, as she timidly repeated the name. The young man started, and as his eye fell upon her face, his own flushed with a pleased surprise, and forgetful for the moment of customer and goods, he drew the bewildered woman to a seat beside him while he exclaimed in the tenderest of tones

75,000 Acres of Good Timber Land

For Sale at a Low Rate,

Situated on Moose River, in the town of Greig, Lewis County New York

Said timber consisting of White Hemlock, Spruce, Pine and Hardwood. The subscribers own two large tanneries, located on the aforesaid tract, which will consume the hemlock bark, thus enabling the land and timber to be purchased at a comparatively cheap rate. The timber is excellent in quality in all particulars. The aforesaid tract of land is easy of access, being only from six to fifteen miles from both the Black River R. R. and Black River Canal, which lead direct to the Albany Market. The land is comparatively level, well watered and good for farming purposes. Moose River, which extends through the tract, is a large stream and empties into Black River, where the aforesaid Canal leads into Black River. At this point or junction of the rivers, is a fall of sixty (60) feet over which the waters of both rivers flow thus forming an unlimited water power (we might say right in the Canal and at the Depot) to which Moose River will carry the immense amount of timber from the aforesaid lands.

Any parties desiring to manufacture lumber will do well to give this rare opportunity their attention. The land and timber can be purchased at a cheap rate or the timber alone permitted. For further particulars address

FRENCH FIRE-PROOF LAMP CHIMNEYS,

These chimneys, which are now for the first time offered to the public, possess all the essentials of a heat-resisting Chimney. They are well made, of a superior quality of glass each one finished smoothly at the bottom, and being carefully annealed or tempered, will not break from the most intense heat of a lamp flame.

A trial of their merits will convince the consumer that although costing a trifle more than the ordinary class of Chimneys in use they will prove a source of much economy in the use of Kerosene, a saving of untold trouble and annoyance and a preventative of many accidents hitherto resulting from the breakage of Chimneys upon burning Lamps.
